

The Gillen Review

What is the Gillen Review?

Sir John Gillen has been leading a review of serious sexual offences in Northern Ireland. The review is looking at how the justice system could be better for people who have been the victim of a sexual crime.

Everyone's view matters

Sir John Gillen has said:

"Sexual crime is one of the worst violations of human dignity. I am determined to ensure that no voice is left unheard in this important and much needed review."

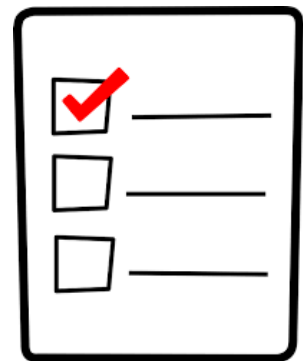

He has spoken to lots of different groups to hear their opinions.

He has released the first copy of his report for people to read and give their opinion on what they like or don't like about it.

The report makes over 200 recommendations.

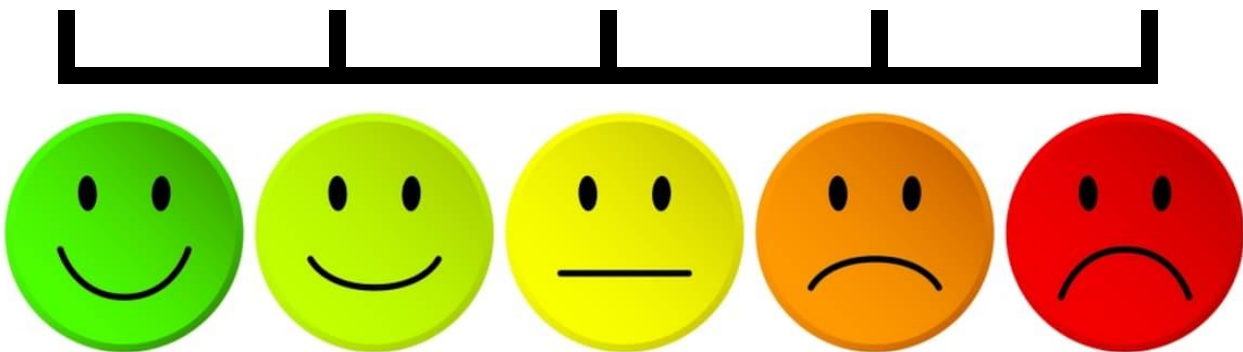

Some of them were written especially for people with learning disabilities.

What do you think of these recommendations?

A tool kit should be made to help the police find out if someone has a learning disability and may need some extra support.

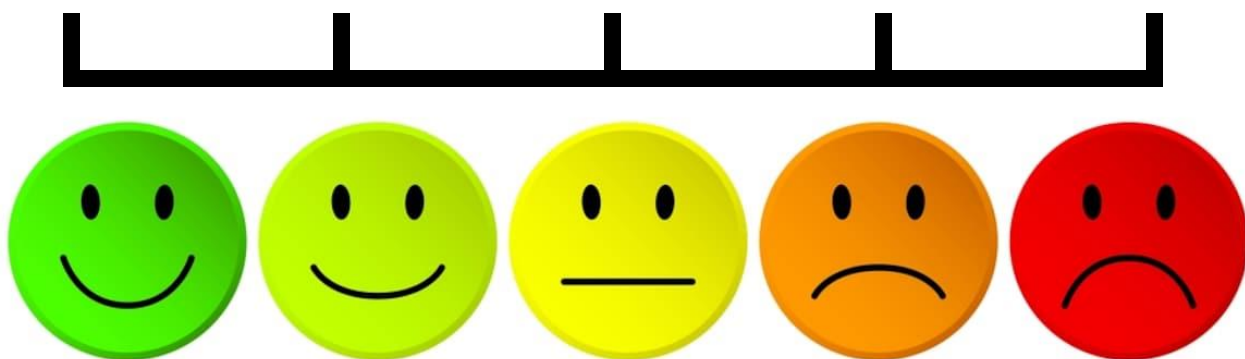

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

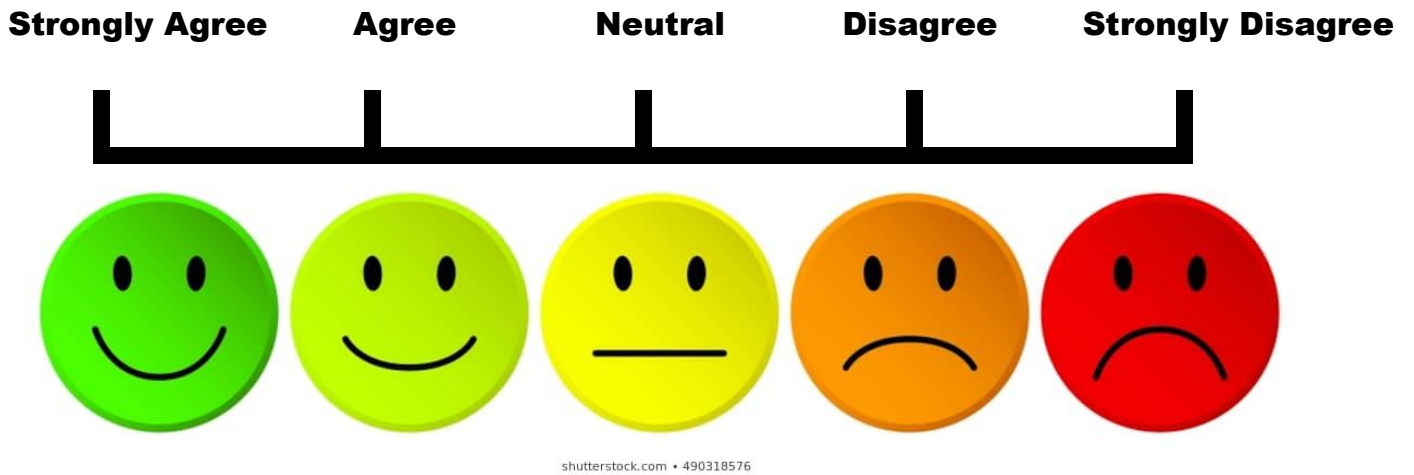

Everyone involved should take great care to check if someone has a learning disability. They should work out how to best support them.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

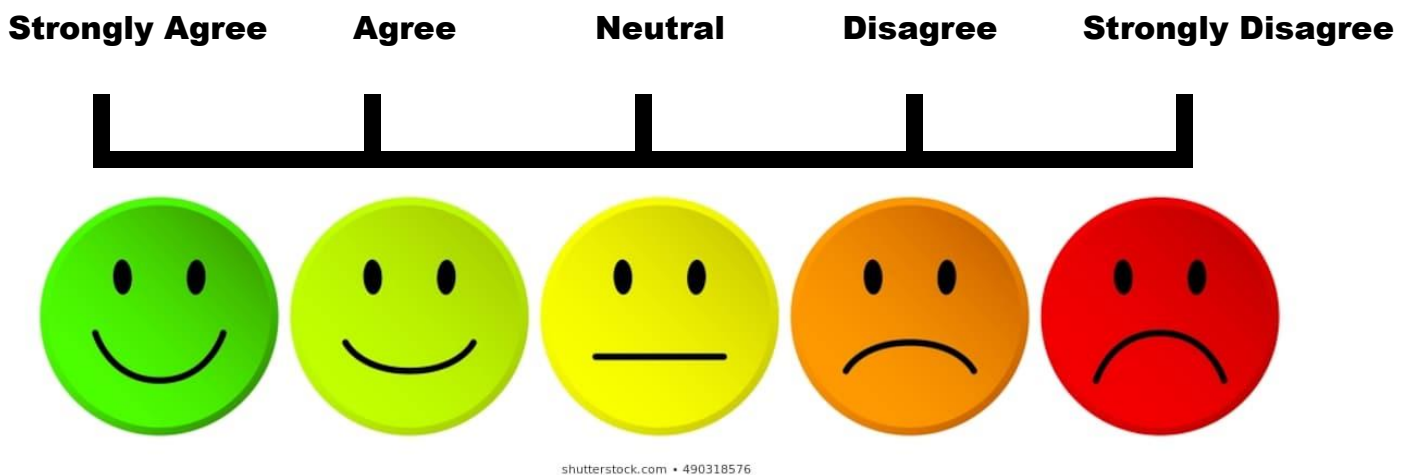

shutterstock.com • 490318576

If someone has a learning disability, they should be given a “registered intermediary”. This is someone who will find out how the person likes to communicate. They will explain the best way to support them.

Registered intermediaries should include people who are deaf and visually impaired.

More research should be done on sexual offences against people with learning disabilities.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

There should be specialist sexual violence services to support people with learning disabilities.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

The court website should have information on support for people with learning disabilities.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

The police should talk to people with learning disabilities about the law and what will happen if they report a sexual crime.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

Police officers should be trained on working with people with learning disabilities.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

People with learning disabilities should have sex education while at school.

Strongly Agree Agree Neutral Disagree Strongly Disagree

shutterstock.com • 490318576

Do you have any comments or questions about the review?